Black Stainless Hosiery at A Cohn's, 25 cents per pair.

ALL SORTS.

The weather seems to be slightly moderating.

Judge Wells is short about 400 votes, having been beaten by Fitzgerald.

Parties wishing to enlist in the Indian war will please call at this office.

A boy pianist and Aamold, the famous violinist, will appear here on the 13th.

Wienerwurst, the best you ever ate and other delicious sausage at Adam Uhl's market.

The Humboldt Democrats thought that something had exploded when the returns came in.

Rev. E. W. Van Deventer proposes to deliver a lecture in Odd Fellows' Hall, in this city, on Thursday evening next.

Sheriff Briggs of Douglas has purchased the Muller House next to the St. Charles hotel and after May 1st will run the two hotels as one.

Martin Beale had the end of the fore finger on his left hand blown off on Thursday afternoon by the explosion of a cartridge while hunting ducks near Tallac. He snapped the hammer of the gun.

Frank Boskowitz called at the APPEAL office yesterday and left a box of imported cigars. When we began smoking one, our faithful dog struck out for home. Probably a domestic cigar inadvertently strayed into the box.

Frank Golden, of the well known firm of Chatelain & Golden, the leading jewelers of Nevada, departed for San Francisco last night, where he goes to negotiate with eastern manufacturers preparatory to laying in a complete stock of holiday goods.

It was Mr. Mackey's intention to have barbecued his Holstein bull in order to properly celebrate his election. After figuring up the returns he has decided not to have a barbecue. In case of a barbecue, however, there is nothing so juicy and tender in the meat line as a young Holstein.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church have completed preparations for the appearance of Mr. Edward Fabian, the brilliant elocutionist and singer, at Odd Fellows' Hall, Thursday evening, November 13th. The Eastern press says:

Mr. Fabian is a man of unusual talent for public reading, and his art is highly developed, reflecting not only fine taste, but keen intelligence and careful study. His voice is a rich baritone, with remarkable flexibility and variety of timbre, and his enunciation is beautifully clear and distinct.

As the seasons change, so does the quality of meats. M. C. Gardner has prepared his stock for such changes, and young beef, well fed and cared for during the previous seasons, is the only kind he slaughters.

LETITIA ALDRICH.

High Praise of the Young Actress from Alameda.

Charles Carey Wadde, in an article on "The American Amateur Stage," published in the Cosmopolitan for November, says:

"A most fascinating Washington actress is Miss Letitia Aldrich, the niece of Senator William M. Stewart, of Nevada. She is a San Franciscan by birth, and the warmth of California suns seems to linger in the golden glints of her rich brown hair and her olive complexion. Her superb physique and statuesque beauty will qualify her to assume such stately comedy characters as Galatea and Maid Marian, and her clear, musical voice and pleasing elocution afford a graceful finish to whatever work she undertakes. Miss Aldrich's recent creation of the part of Maid Marian in Miss Seawell's dramatization of her novel of that name, was delicious by its unaffected naivete and frank assumption of the manners of the haute dame. There was something of the indefinable power in Miss Aldrich's action in the second act, when the artist first throws back the drapery, discovering a beautiful full-length portrait against a rich, dark background. With marvelous, stately grace, the picture forsakes the frame and moves about the stage, a high bred figure from the Elizabethan court. This materialization, though perhaps lacking in novelty, yet became, through Miss Aldrich's interpretation, so striking and so replete with admirable dignity, that round after round of applause rang from the distinguished audience assembled to do her honor. Miss Aldrich's recent marriage to Mr. Rounceville Wildman, Consul to Singapore, will cause her temporary removal from Washington, which is greatly to be regretted."

Reading for Free Traders.

A meeting of Ohio capitalists met in Cleveland on October 14, for the purpose of organizing a company for the manufacture of tin plates. Mr. J. L. Morris, who has been connected with former attempts to start this industry in the United States, gave a description of the first trial at the business. The Leader and Herald reported him as follows:

"At the time I commenced manufacture," said Mr. Morris, "there was no tariff upon tin plate. I made the first experiments in Pittsburgh. I bought a couple of tons of iron, and, although it was 'sealed,' we made it up in very fair tin plate. The goods sold readily and I set about organizing a stock company. The town of Wellsville offered us the best terms, and we located there. I sold a trial order of three hundred boxes to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the manager assured me that if the goods were satisfactory they would give us all their orders. They found the tin plate equal to the English, and we sold them other consignments at $11 a box. A short time afterward a large firm of importers asked the company why they had stopped buying tin plate of them and the manager said: 'The American Tin Plate Company, of Wellsville, supplies all we want.' Word was immediately sent across to England and within two weeks foreign tin plate was selling at $7 per box, and it continued to drop until it reached the price of $4.75. We could not stand the ruinous competition, and with the panic of 1873 and the labor troubles the American Tin Plate Company was soon a thing of the past. After the domestic tin plate was driven out of market the foreign article immediately began to increase in price."

Coal.

The Castle Gate Coal Company which Mrs. Lieutenant Governor Davis represents in this State, supplies the best coal in the American market. It is much superior to wood for heating purposes, and equally as cheap. Parties wishing coal will do well to give her an order.

THE INDIAN TROUBLE.

The Red Skins Think Their Messiah Has Come.

The Indian trouble in Lander county, are due, it is claimed to the idea now prevalent among the Indians, that their Messiah has come.

Gen. Miles was recently interviewed at St. Paul, and says that the trouble is due to a religious craze existing among the Indian tribes.

"I have been in the Utah, Montana and Cheyenne Reservation, investigating this craze. You no doubt have heard that the Indian tribes are reported to believe that the Messiah is coming, who is to restore them to their former glory, bring back the buffalo and drive away the whites from the land. I have learned this belief exists among the various tribes of the Sioux, Cheyennes, Blackfeet, Shoshones and other tribes. In all, the craze extended to sixteen tribes, the Snake Indians being the only ones to repudiate it.

"There is no doubt, many Indians holding this belief in the Indian Messiah are sincere, and few have certainly seen some person whom they took to be that Messiah. Several small parties of Indians have gone westward from their tribes to some point which, as near as I can locate, is in Nevada. There they have been shown somebody disguised as the Messiah and have spoken with him. I am inclined to believe there are more than one person impersonating this Messiah, for when the Sioux have spoken with him he replied in the Sioux language and to the Blackfeet he has spoken in their tongue and so on with the representatives of each nation or tribe, speaking their own language to each."

General Miles thinks that the Mormons are the prime movers in the scheme.

The man who is personating the Messiah, goes about with his face muffled and is believed to be a smooth white man.

The Story Count.

In Lander county the count is always a long one and it looks as if the counters were not in any hurry to let go their hold on the $5 a day or else perhaps they are naturally slow counters. The count being over shows the following majorities:

Both Failed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—At the Bay District track today, Palo Alto failed to break his record of 2:12 and 1-2, making the mile in 2:14 and 3-4. Stamboul failed in his effort to lower his record of 2:11 and 1-2, making the mile in 2:13. Three-quarters of a mile, however, was made in 1:39, being 3-4 of a second faster than Stamboul's time at Napa for that distance.

A clean butcher shop goes far towards keeping the meat fresh. Flies will not gather where things are clean. M. C. Gardner, Jr., has just such a market, where the finest lamb, beef, mutton, pork, sausage, etc., can be secured at any time.
